

To Whom it may concern,

My name is Carkethia Allen and somethings have been troubling me and now my heart is broken. I have a story and I also have a dream. My story is about a young man who has been bullied and he decided to defend himself. One the night of August 20, 2015 a woman received a call that her brother has been hiding in the woods for hours, because three men was hunting him down like a wild animal, the call was to advise the woman to contact her mother and tell her to open the door for her brother because he is very scared and have been in the wood now for approximately 2 hrs, their mom has a medical condition she has been diagnosis with ever since 2005 and being that the mother already took her medication for the night she could not hear her son frantically beating at the back door. The woman then call her dad and advise him that her brother have been in the woods hiding and someone need to help him open the door and call the police. The mom call the sister back and advise she have her son, but before she found him she did notice a car rode though the neighborhood and 3 men was in the car and was pointing what she describe as a gun pointing out the car window she then realize her son was really in fear for his life. She immediatley call 911 and the officer came out and assisted the young man, he deeply expressed his fear to the officer and he said he was scared the 3 men was going to kill him. In the neighborhood where the young man and mother live is a club where the suspects fled to hide from the police the young man did advise the police officers the 3 men where hiding at the club the police didn't even attempt to go to the club and talk with the 3 men, instead they just wrote a police report,(just think about this for a minute a person have called the police in fear for his life, what good is the police if they cant do their job which is protect and serve). When the police left the 3 men came out of hiding the driver of the car became scared because he now know the police is looking for the them, but that didn't stop them from coming back taunting the young man. The mother of the young man then called her daughter again expressing to her that the 3 men is going to kill her son, she was very upset, the sister began to cry she didn't know what to do, she couldn't help her one and only little brother because she live about an hr away and she have 4 children and she didn't want to bring them out into a situation that she was not sure of, to this day the sister blames herself for the outcome of the situation. The mom did advise the sister she called 911 and again and this time the police came out and again the 3 men went back to the club and pretend that they was there partying, (tell me why the police is failing to protect and serve) instead the mom informed the sister that the police went up to the club and started to watch young ladies dance outside the club and advise the young man just to go inside his home, they did nothing. The young man and his mother walked back to their home which is 20 seconds away from the club (that will tell how far the the club is from the home about 50 feet). The young man was so scared but he also didn't want these men to come back to his mom house and harm her so he stayed on his step waiting in fear and praying these men didn't came back. After a couple of hours had past indeed the young men came back, this time the driver of the first car didn't come because he had warrants and he didn't want to get caught up in trouble, So this time it was 2 young men and 2 females that came back. The mom then again called her daughter and informed her that they were back and she saw the car dropped one of the guys off around the corner the sister began to cry because she don't know what to do since the police have failed again to protect her brother so she again told her mother to call the police and she did, the brother also had one of the officer cell number and he informed the young man that there was no officers in the area that they was about an hr away. At that time one of the young ladies and the two men begin taunting the boy and his ex girl friend also showed up to make sure everything was alright. At that time one of the young man grab the ex girlfriend and being beating on her like she was a punching bag, slam her to the ground repeatedly and she began panicking and trying to breathe her eyes began to roll back in her head she began going in and out of conscienous at the same time the young man was being taunted by the young women and other man they began to throw bottles at him and informed him he was next to get a gruesome beating. The young man was so scared he did however grab a shot gun and shot in the air once the young man was still beating the ex girlfriend to a pulp he refuse to stop as her eyes began to roll in her head the young man began to cry out please stop the man that was beating her turn and said you next so get ready at that time the young man did shoot the man in the butt who was beating the ex-girlfriend to death, when he shot the man said he shot me and continue beating the girl but she then managed to get from under him and she was so scared for her life she then reach out for bat she had and she began to beat the man in the who was beating her so badly, as all the bystanders stood by and the young man he called out in the crowd someone please call 911 no one called but his mother did, the young man then left and went straight to the police department to tell them what happen again instead of the protecting him they failed and he was locked up, the man that was beating the girl and taunting the man the whole night died and the young man has been charged for murder, for protecting himself. Until this day no real investagation has been done, noone has came out to talk with his mother and he is still lock up sobbing everyday for this tragedy that happen, his ex girlfriend is out on bound and she have been out since September, the young man sister she have hired a lawyer and its really hard on the family right now because to know that he is locked up for protecting his self and his home. The town that they live in is refusing to cooperate with the lawyer and still have not provided the motion of discovery and prolonging, Williamsburg county is full of corruption. The story is about my Brother his name is Charlie Adams a young man that don't bother anyone and don't don't like violence, I raised my brother and always taught him to walk away from situation and he never bother anyone. He is the most kind person in the world and will give you the shirt off his back. He don't deserve to be treated as the suspect when he was first the victim. Yes I sympathize for the family that lose a love one but it could have been my brother and I praise God everyday that he is able to breathe. This justice system often punishes the wrong person for protecting themselves, when will this change, this cant be America. Im desperately seeking help and justice.
