Dear Nikki,

I have a problem with my daughter and Horry County police. My daughter Ashley Lawrence has bipolar and a few other mental problems and she has been beating me up every other month! I have always taught her that if you do wrong, you will be punished. But the police won't do anything to her! I have called the cops ten times on her, they even told me "We don't do mental"! They are teaching her she can beat me and get away with it. If I hit her back they want to take me to jail for defending myself! There is something wrong with that. I am fifty five and Ashley is twenty five. I feel I have no protection from her. I'm afraid one day she will kill me! She is driving me crazy! I am disabled and can't afford to move out. She is disabled as well and we only get $733 a month. My hope is that the police will listen to me and take her to jail. Maybe she would learn a lesson.

The last time, April 5, 2016, I had a swollen eye and a knot on my forehead. The police said they didn't see it. I am an old person with wrinkles everywhere. My eye was so swollen that there were no wrinkles at all! I am in fear for my life! Ashley and I live with my brother. I have been living in my bedroom in a tiny trailer ever since my last beating. She has driven me to the point where I wanted to kill myself. I then posted it on facebook just to get the cops here again to take me to the hospital. They knew me and my problem with my daughter and how upset I got for the injustice I have been through, and rough housed me out of my house and has permittedly mess up my arm?
My nerves were so bad I was yelling and in the ambulance the paramedic was making fun of me! I started to throw up and he yelled at me to "just stop it! You are messing my truck!" He continued taunting me all the way to the hospital!
I was beaten. — no help — I was mistreated no help! I was humiliated!!! No help!

This has left a big scar on my heart, my life, my mind! I will never get over how I was treated! I hate Henry county police and I'll never go to a hospital again because they treated me bad ~~so~~ as well.'!!

I have spent all my time to see that Ashley got the best doctors, Teachers, therapist, everything she needed! For what? To get beat up and her get away with it. Even her doctors won't help. I called her therapist Tony Roman and her doctor at Waccamow Mental Health and they won't do anything either. I called Susan Mathis at W. Mental Health and she wouldn't return my call! I feel I'm living with my potentially killer and nobody cares!

Ashley has bipolar, asperger disorder, borderline personality, auditory processing disorder, P.T.S.D., schizoaffective disorder, depression and is very immature for her age! I need help or at least she does! I don't know where to turn now! Please help me! Or her! I don't know where she will have another meltdown, but I do know, it will happen again!

Sincerely,

Debbie Duell
