The Elder Justice Coordinating Council (EJCC) brings together leaders from across the federal government to address issues of elder justice nationally.

The Spring 2016 EJCC meeting will build on momentum from the 2015 White House Conference on Aging and explore ways to further incorporate elder justice into the work of agencies throughout the federal government. During the meeting, national experts from government and private industry will discuss the issues of elder abuse research, the financial services industry's response to elder abuse and financial exploitation, and developments in training about elder abuse across a variety of fields.
