To all,

On behalf of the Kronotex USA group; I wanted to thank the Governor and the South Carolina Department of Commerce team for the invitation and hospitality during the Heritage tournament. The First Gentleman's Invitational and the Palmetto State reception are first class events that offer excellent networking opportunities for companies within the great state of South Carolina. We are especially grateful to Governor Haley for taking the time to meet with us to discuss our expansion plans. We look forward to working with the local and state agencies to develop a workforce that has the skill set to meet the basic math, mechanical and technical skills required to operate today's automated manufacturing equipment. As Governor Haley said; we have to develop jobs in rural South Carolina that pay good wages and help keep areas like Barnwell County an attractive place to live and a great place for companies like Kronotex USA to grow and expand.

Thanks again for a great couple of days at the Heritage and Hilton Head.

Sincerely,
George Kelley
