Holly,

Over the course of the public records request process related to the Charleston shooting and confederate flag, the Associated Press has been in touch to discuss cost-effective ways to gain access to some records.

I haven't talked to the reporter, Seanna Adcox, in the last week or two about it. But since you've talked to The State, it might be helpful for you to also talk to Seanna about the possibility of narrowing her request.

Would you mind talking to her? I can give you background on our discussions. Let's talk today if possible.
