Don't call it a ballroom! In Colonial times these large ornate chambers, like the Long Room at Hampton Plantation, were for daily use. Though this rooms seems like a great place to dance, it could also double as a dining room or a sitting room. Legend says George Washington had breakfast in this room during his visit to Hampton in 1791! Plan your visit: www.southcarolinaparks.com/hampton
