Subject: Make an Impact

Kevin,

For five decades, the Wilson Center has bridged the world of ideas and the world of policy. Now, at the end of our golden 50th anniversary year, I honestly believe that the work we do has never been more vital.

That's why I'm writing to you today.

If you believe in a fact-based, globally-minded, nonpartisan approach to policymaking, will you step up now with a tax-deductible contribution to help the Wilson Center?

We rely on contributions like yours—investments made by individuals and organizations in our work, our ethos, and our impact.

Your support means more research on national security issues, on how to build and sustain global cooperation, on how to combat disinformation campaigns, and on how to secure the key components of democracy that undergird peace.

It means more scholarship on key countries, including North Korea, Russia, and China. It means continuing to bring together officials, thought leaders, and stakeholders from across party lines and across the world.

If supporting these issues matters to you, will you donate now?

With just a few days left in 2018, time is growing short to make a tax-deductible contribution to the Wilson Center in this calendar year.

Donate now—and invest in the type of world you want to see in 2019.

Happy holidays—and thank you!

With appreciation,

Jane Harman

Wilson Center Director, President, and CEO

P.S. If you aren't able to give today, shop with Amazon Smile this holiday season, and a portion of each purchase will be donated to the Wilson Center.
