Just to show you how cold it has been in South Carolina.....here's a frosty, frozen Horseshoe Falls at Musgrove Mill State Historic Site. Thanks, Ranger Dawn for this refreshing pic! Brrrrrr!

Layla Elizabeth Manning Since April 2016, we've visited Musgrove Mill six times, most recently for OU Fest. Ranger Dawn led a fantastic, creative, informative program. We can't wait to go back! It's my son's favorite -- he always brings his Jr Ranger badge and hat. :)

Stacy Thomas Turner Love Horseshoe Falls, always went there as a kid & all into my adult years as well. But I remember when we could fit 4 or 5 ppl under that waterfall. Does the water over time wash down the size of the rocks or does it settle into the ground causing it to be smaller??

at 22:26:58 on 1/06/2018 UTC

Stacy Thomas Turner When I say 4 or 5 ppl, I'm talking teen & adult size as well.

at 22:28:38 on 1/06/2018 UTC

Stacy Thomas Turner These are some photos my friend on fb took recently as well, they're breath taking... Oh, his name is Joey Grubb & I take no credit for any of these. Just a simple save & share, I feel he wouldn't mind my sharing. Thank you!
