Rob --

I would like to speak with the governor about whether the state is raising enough money to pay for services at agencies to avoid the types of problems seen at DOR, DOT, DSS, DJJ and Dept. of Education

Since just before the recession, the general fund revenue has not risen as fast as the state's population and inflation.

What can the state do to boost revenue to make sure agencies what they need? Or are other changes needed?

I would like to speak with the governor Thursday.

Thank you,
Andy
