

I am 80 years old. I know America. I am sad to see this generation sending her to her doom. I am sad to see our elected officials handing her over to our enemies, lowering her to their level.

Flags do not kill people any more than guns kill people. PEOPLE
KILL PEOPLE.

America will not be saved by lowering our standards to satisfy every person who is offended. Now have offended me by removing the flag. What are you going to do to satisfy me? Or because I am a law abiding, natural citizen I don't count?

I cannot believe that you think 'that was a great day in S.C.'

What will it take for you to lower the American flag? I write in much sorrow
