

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Timeline posts

Record ID: 20210421South-Carolina-State-ParksTimeline-posts52748_10159283056063166

South Carolina State Parks > Black Folks Camp Too,
#treateveryoneeverywhereequally

at 12:42:22 on 4/21/2021 UTC · 🌐

Black Folks Camp Too, helping us get more people of all backgrounds into our parks! We want everyone, everywhere to enjoy our parks and the outdoor lifestyle! Take a listen!

#treateveryoneeverywhereequally

www.SouthCarolinaParks.com

Black Folks Camp Too

TABLE ROCK STATE PARK...reminds us of our mission. It's sincere, meaningful, measurable and sustainable! It has beautiful waterfalls, a huge mountain facing the sun, cabins, RV & tent campsites and an amazing staff! Oh, it's located in Pickens, SC.

The campfire in our logo represents the portal for amazing conversations. Your race, gender, or age does not matter. We ALL have something to say! #blackfolkscamptoo #adventurebeyond #backpacking #hiking #outdoors #outdoorlife #icamptoo #tentlife #rvlife #campinglife South Carolina State Parks

Rosemarie Burguiere When I see a person, I never see their color. This is just more of separate but equal.....stupid, if you ask me.

If you want more people advertise and make it more affordable. Look at what you did to Huntington Beach. New Ugly cement sites on top of each other with no privacy or greenery.

at 12:55:34 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Jethro Bodine Ok so blacks camp they have been for decades see no reason to celebrate.

at 13:15:34 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Robert Matthews All about inclusion. You will either see a rise in campers or a big decrease! These are the only quiet places left.

at 14:07:41 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Tags: deleted

Mary Anders Why would you even make a statement like this? This statement is part of the problem. STOP

at 14:21:50 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Marshall-Dee Franklin My wife works for the park system and all people camp stop making it a race thing that is what is wrong with this country now. We are all people no matter what race or gender you are.

at 14:34:08 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Lori Telesco We are more segregated than ever before. It's sad

at 15:31:10 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Alex Leibowitz I met a black lady and started talking about being out doors and she brought up to me that she is out to let others see that black people can go camping, hiking, and kayaking. She is helping her race to get involved. So for the people saying this shouldn't be brought up it is an actual issue for some people to feel comfortable enough to participate in these activities. I'm glad we met so we can exchange places and ideas.

at 16:04:45 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Christopher Perretta Rosemarie Burguiere not everyone wants to camp in a dirt/sand pit. I love the new paved sites at Huntington. My new camper doesn't get trashed there. So...

at 16:09:35 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Gene Lee, Nature Photography A lot of white people seem to be upset by this post... when there is NOTHING to be riled up over. Promotion towards various areas of society is no threat for or towards you.

at 16:22:14 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Susan Mullins Epperly Poor language on this advertisement. Who cares what color you are? I don't look at color any different and neither should anyone else. Everyone have a safe summer and enjoy.

at 20:37:39 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Angie Askew Who was saying they don't camp?

at 23:51:25 on 4/21/2021 UTC

Dan Bullington Michele Bittner Bullington

at 0:55:10 on 4/22/2021 UTC

Sandy Bennett Anderson Because camping is so much fun, with an RV of course! Can't do the tent thing.☺ It's great for the kids to get out and explore. My family and I just recently visited Table Rock. We stayed at Table Rock campground. The kids and the grands hiked to the top of Table Rock. Papa and I along with our Brinkley stayed behind just enjoying the scenery. I encourage everyone to find time to escape. Looking forward to our next adventure to the Florida Keys and Miami in June! Happy travels!!

at 11:49:02 on 4/22/2021 UTC

Version: Current

Tags: edited

Arantza Gil Then flags shouldn't be allowed. We have been surrendered by confederate flags and giant Trump flags camping in SC and GA and it was really uncomfortable. Last summer we understood why we don't see black people camping and why we are always the only immigrants doing it. You have to sleep and share bathrooms with people who openly hate you and that's not something you want for your children.

at 14:35:45 on 4/22/2021 UTC

Nichole Brink-Dingler Gene Lee, Nature Photography so typical ☺ what I despise about my home state.

at 15:21:42 on 4/23/2021 UTC

Nichole Brink-Dingler Looks beautiful! Can't wait to visit.

at 15:23:16 on 4/23/2021 UTC

Gene Rollins Nichole Brink-Dingler

Disappointing. Really is. Hoping this kind of reaction is going to die out or become educated enough to cease existing.

at 16:39:31 on 4/23/2021 UTC

Bonnie Pence You make a good point, it is easy to be overwhelmed by all of the 'good ole boys' out enjoying nature.

at 14:46:22 on 4/24/2021 UTC

Evan Stiner I see race. I think people saying they are blind to race see this as somehow showing that they aren't racist, either consciously or unconsciously. But, I see race and I think that is a good thing. Our society isn't monochromatic and thank God for that. If I said that I never see race I assume everyone thinks as I do, acts as I do, believes as I do, have had the same experiences in life as I have, and are just a reflection of me. And thank God that isn't the way it is. So yes I see race and I love seeing a kaleidoscope at our parks.

at 19:22:23 on 4/24/2021 UTC

Endru Kiesen Because this isn't racist.

at 10:43:08 on 4/25/2021 UTC

Ray Walker Gene Lee, Nature Photography upset? Really?

at 1:58:33 on 5/01/2021 UTC