

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Videos

Record ID: 20091005South-Carolina-State-ParksVideos52748_1062631065469

South Carolina State Parks

at 15:48:26 on 10/05/2009 UTC

Another great place for viewing fall foliage is Caesars Head State Park, and one of the signature sights of the park is Raven Cliff Falls. The hike is moderate in difficulty, and approximately two miles to the viewing platform. You won't want to miss this during peak fall color. Learn more at: <http://www.southcarolinaparks.com/park-finder/state-park/1648.aspx>

Raven Cliff Falls at Caesars Head State Park

Lacie Lisa Barber Totally agree!

at 16:15:27 on 10/05/2009 UTC

Sue Ann Tarkenton This waterfall is also stunning in the winter when everything has frozen over. There are sheets of ice cascading down the mountain. It has a small trickle of water dripping down the center. So beautiful.

at 20:14:03 on 10/05/2009 UTC