

From: Law360 In-Depth <news-q@law360.com>
To: Adams, ChaneyChaneyAdams@gov.sc.gov
Date: 9/19/2016 2:24:50 PM
Subject: Lawyers Flocking To Social Media Find Old Rules Don't Hold Up

---

Feature

Lawyers Flocking To Social Media Find Old Rules Don't Hold Up

By Max Stendahl

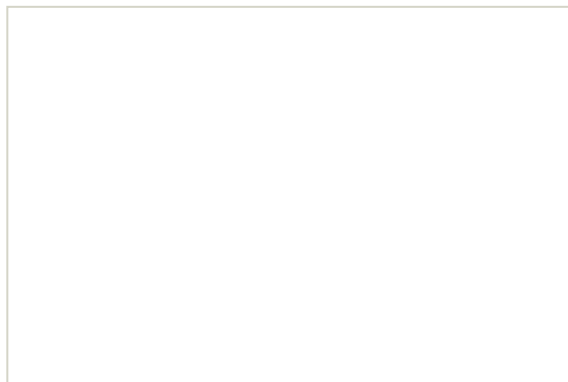

The legal industry is embracing social media, but danger lurks in the Twitterverse.

---

Feature

Feature

Confusion Over Dodd-Frank Is Leaving Whistleblowers Exposed

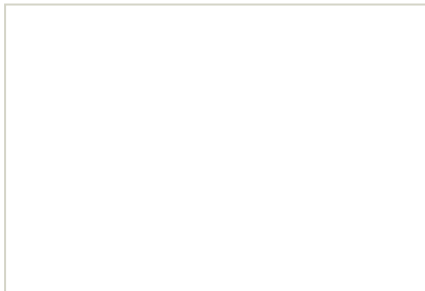

By Ed Beeson

A late addition to the 2010 Dodd-Frank Act has sparked a sprawling legal fight to determine the law's protections for workers who report a possible securities fraud to their boss but not the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Juror Racism Claim To Test Limits Of Secret Deliberations

By Max Stendahl

What happens when the principle of jury secrecy collides with a defendant's Sixth Amendment rights? A Supreme Court case involving allegations of racial bias may provide the answer.

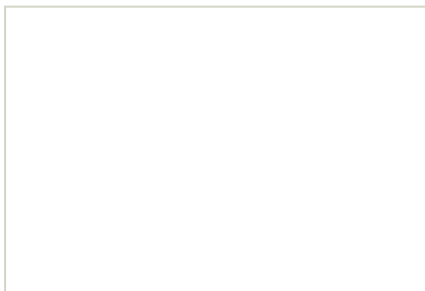

Sidebar

Cubs' Lydia Wahlke On Winning Seasons And The Magic Of Wrigley

By Melissa Maleske

In a 10-minute interview, Chicago Cubs General Counsel Lydia Wahlke dished to Law360 about the best seats at Wrigley Field, her love of "The Great British Baking Show," and why losing the National League Championship Series last year felt a little like settling on the eve of trial.

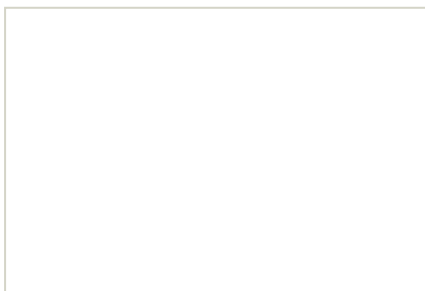

Secret Lives Of Lawyers

Golenbock Eiseman's Preston Ricardo Toughs It Out

By Kevin Penton

S. Preston Ricardo thinks up his litigation strategies while training to be a better runner, swimmer and cyclist — a pursuit that has also helped him earn a ranking among the worldwide elite of endurance athletes.

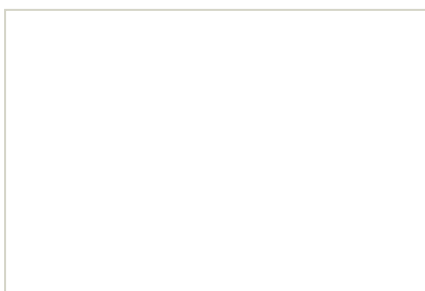

You Can Quote Me On That

The Best In Legal Talk

The Dorothy Defense, Pizza Pals, Territorial Thank-You's

By Richard McVay

Legal minds since our last edition talked about the Land of Oz, communal tips and fighting over "thanks." Here are the best lines from the legal world.

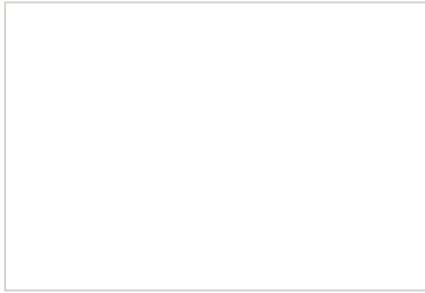

Op-Ed

Consider Requiring Personality Testing For Lawyers

By Jean C. Edwards, Edwards Neils LLC

With the overwhelming stresses placed on attorneys today, contributing to attorney psychological problems and resulting in destructive behavior, should pre-employment personality testing be required of attorneys entering law firms to identify the ones most susceptible? The answer may be yes.

Op-Ed

Uber Should Finally Admit It Has Employees

By Catherine Ruckelshaus, National Employment Law Project

Uber could wait for a ruling against it like the one against a California trucking company earlier this month, or it could do the right thing and admit that its employees are actually its employees.

Op-Ed

Secret Tape Recordings: State Law Can Seal Your Fate

By Bobby Samini, Samini Scheinberg PC

I represented former Los Angeles Clippers owner Donald Sterling and continue to represent him. Roger Ailes' troubles draw marked comparisons to Sterling's legal fight over the same issue.

Not sure if your firm subscribes? Ask your librarian.

We hope you found this message to be useful.

However, if you'd rather not receive future emails of this sort, you may unsubscribe here.

Please DO NOT reply to this email. For customer support inquiries, please call 1-646-783-7100 or visit our Contact Us page.

Law360 | Portfolio Media, Inc, 111 West 19th Street, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10011