

The Liberation of Women from Exploitation

A nation that condones the exploitation of its women for profit at the expense of their dignity and safety has lost its moral compass and its conscience. Women are citizens with the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

A nation of citizens with individual rights, to be protected by government authorities, from rape, assault, oppression and indignities brought upon them by exploitation by men who call themselves pornographers.

Government leaders are elected by the people, to uphold and protect individual rights and dignity of every citizen at all times.

Police, sheriffs and all law enforcement agencies have a sworn duty to protect the dignity of women from being violated by men. Women being violated, raped, assaulted, abused by those in pornography need their rights and dignity protected and the perpetrators, located and prosecuted for their crimes.

Democracy, civility and decency demand that government protect the weak from the strong. Pornography is the willful disregard for the dignity and respect for women as citizens and as individuals.

Women are citizens with Constitutional rights, to be protected from oppression, exploitation, assault, rape and any form of abuse by pornographers.

Every citizen has a civic duty to uphold the law and stand against and report to authorities those in pornography who violate, oppress, rape, trespass and assault women.
