

From: SC Policy Council <info=scpolicycouncil.com@mail23.suw11.mcdlv.net>
To: Veldran, KatherineKatherineVeldran@gov.sc.gov
Date: 11/23/2015 8:09:29 PM
Subject: Why lawmakers never go home | Silencing whistleblowers | Big salaries at trouble agency

Is this email not displaying correctly?
View it in your browser.

Friend on Facebook

Follow on Twitter

Forward to a Friend

Why Lawmakers Never Go Home

In recent years, South Carolina's legislative session has reminded us of the NBA basketball season – it never seems to end. The law mandates a nearly half-year session, making it one of the longest in the nation, and legislators make it even longer by remaining in town for all sorts of official and unofficial reasons.

The problem isn't that our never-ending legislative session wastes public money. It does, but that's not the problem. The real problem is that the more time legislators spend "working" in Columbia, the more time they spend expanding their power and doing favors for special interests. read more>>

County Moves to Silence Critics

Some local officials have a strange definition of "unethical behavior." They seem to think it means talking to journalists about government officials misusing public money. read more>>

What's Ahead

The Nerve has scored some major victories lately. But SCPC president Ashley Landess thinks it could accomplish far more than it has already. read more>>

Lawmakers Take to Facebook

In the old days, you heard stories about people giving their politicians an earful. Now it happens on social media. read more>>

Troubled Agency Gets Expensive Staffers

The agency's new head? An old Clemson friend of Gov. Nikki Haley. Ron Aiken reports. read more>>

Best & Worst

If you haven't seen this year's guide to 2015's

Amazon Smile

If you shop on Amazon during the holidays, remember: You can legislation, here it is.

support your favorite nonprofit (that's us, right?
) at no extra cost on your Amazon bill. learn more>>

Visit us on the web at scpolycouncil.org

Our coordinates:

South Carolina Policy Council
1323 Pendleton Street
Columbia, South Carolina 29201
803 779 5022 (phone)
803 779 4953 (fax)

unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences