RE: Pickens County School District losing accreditation

As a mother, I am very proactive in my children's education. I have been watching in disbelief the actions of the Pickens County School Board. I am very concerned for my children's sake in their ability to attend an University or College if the accreditation is removed from this school district. It is an utter embarrassment to the State for one of its District to continue to not take heed and follow the advise of AdvancEd. There are slim choices for private education in Pickens County and my only alternative is to pull them out of school for home schooling. I would like to have the Governors Office to be aware of this problem. There is so much diligence being placed on bringing new Companies to our State but why would they bring their Company to a county which is coming real close to lose its accreditation for its children. I thought education was important issue to the State to assist in having an employable workforce with college educated personnel. Please do something before its too late. Thank you for looking into this serious matter.

Respectively,
