Attachments: business opportunities committee charter.doc

Hi All,

I did make a few edits to the document, but it looks good. Also, I see the name of the committee was changed from Finance Committee to Business Opportunities Committee....either name would work.

I look forward to working to help set AAMVA on a more fiscally sound platform.

Thanks! Lucinda

Julie and Lucinda,

I think that Neil did a good job writing the charter. I think that we need to wait for the strategic direction and then begin our work. I do think that it's a good idea to ask AAMVA staff to begin to gather costs for the initiatives already underway so that we can see the returns for our investments.

Marcia

Do you all have any thoughts, etc. regarding it that you think we need to talk about? If not, then we'll wait to get the strategic direction mapped out and then I'll work on a conference call with us, Glenn, and Neil after that.

Thanks you all! Enjoyed seeing you at the conference and it will be fun to see what we're able to accomplish, I think!

Julie,

I think you captured our immediate needs - we will begin to develop information on current activities, and I also will ask staff to begin to develop similar information for new services.

Attached is a first draft of a committee charter for review.

Best regards,

Neil

Subject: AAMVA work regarding financials

When we begin our funding stream work, we'll need the following. I thought your staff might want to begin work on it.

A listing of all current revenue streams with annual revenue and how the product is priced, # of customers. We will need short and long-term projections related to our current revenue streams.

For each revenue stream, the total annual expenses related to the stream. We need it broken down in some manner between fixed overhead, variable overhead, E&E, personnel/fringe costs, IT costs. It's possible we would need some further detail than that but I think that would get us started. We will need short and long-term projections related to the current expenses for our revenue streams.

A listing of potential future revenue streams along with market projections (short-term, long-term), how the product would be priced, etc.

I think we'll actually need to finish the strategy before we can really focus on potential future revenue streams. However, I suspect the AAMVA staff have been working on this at some level already.

If you or the staff have any other thoughts on information we need, ways to tackle looking at how we'll want to position ourselves for upcoming fiscal years let us know.

Thanks!
