Subject: RE: 2013 USC Moore School Economic Outlook Conference

Hi Ted:

Thank you very much for getting back with me! We would love to have the Governor attend and participate in the outlook conference. Historically, we have scheduled the conference during the early afternoon hours - as we find that attendance from the business community (especially from those coming from out of town) is highest at this time of day. Would the Governor be available at any time during the afternoon of Monday, December 9th?

If not, I will need to consult with our Director and the Dean to see what flexibility we have to change the event time. We have a meeting scheduled for Wednesday, so if you can let me know whether the afternoon of the 9th is an additional possibility for the Governor before then, I can quickly find out what our options are and let you know. We have continued to move forward in the planning process since your office originally informed us that the Governor would not be available, and part of this has included inviting other out-of-town speakers and reserving appropriate event facilities.

Thank you again for your consideration! I hope that we can make this happen.

Joey

Joey,

We are trying to see if we can get the Governor's schedule to allow her to attend your economic outlook conference.

The Governor is available on Monday December 9th and could attend from 9am to 9:30am to make some remarks to the group. Unfortunately she would not be able to stay because of some other commitments that morning.

Let me know if this works for you.

Thanks,
