South Carolina State Parks

at 17:30:27 on 6/11/2020 UTC

Do you ever camp in an area like the SC Upstate where bears live? Then you need to be Bear Aware! This video features Memphis, one of our black bears that live at Charles Towne Landing. Look how quickly it takes a bear to destroy a campsite if food is left where bears can find it!

Bear Aware from Charles Towne Landing

Alex Garcia Thank you mi amor for the advice.

Edward Kash Good advice, but Charles Towne Landing is not in the upstate. It might be good to change the lead to make it clear that bears also live in the eastern part of South Carolina.

Kara Rogers Thank you for the advice! It would've been a little more helpful if you could expound on what types of containers would be "bear proof".

Linda Wall Killinger Take away... bears like marshmallows! Serious note, proper camp set up was something I emphasized with the girls in my troop when we first started camping together, and we had fun learning.

Jennifer James I was running at PMSP Thursday morning and one smaller black bear...I'm guess small female or adolescent..crossed in front of me by a few meters...we made eye contact for a split second and it continued on his or her way...
