

Dear Mr Haley

God has brought judgement against you for dishonouring the confederate flag.

That bum that killed those black folks dishonored the confederate flag and you fell right into his hands and you dishonored the confederate flag just like him!

So you are no better than he.

God brought the floods there. He did that to bring judgement on you for dishonouring American History.

Have you ever heard of the civil war?

Well, my great grandfather died and lived in that war. And the confederate was created for his honor and for every man who fought and who died for us to live.

The confederate flag has nothing to do with blacks or slavery. Every black person that destroys the Confederate flag should spend seven years in prison and so should you serve seven years in prison for destroying that flag.

I don't hate black people. I have many black friends and I have preached in many

I was raised on a large farm in Virginia. We had two extra houses where blacks lived and the men worked on the farm. Their wives helped in our home - washing dishes, clothes, canning, making beds and cooking.

Their children played with my brother, sister, and I.

The black men ate on our huge wrap around porch. They weren't allowed inside our house to eat, because our father said it wasn't safe around us women.

— because black men he said were too sexually aggressive. Both families had 11-13 children a piece.

But the younger black men would steal our chickens and our tools and corn and watermelons and take them to the markets and sell them.

Our father gave them free rent, free lights, free food and free water and gave them money at each harvest, but these blacks were never satisfied. They'd still steal!

Father would always say that a black man had to have a white man to keep them in line and to depend on or they'd take everything.

I've always believed that to be true because now they are taking our flag - our white history black churches, but many black people are always trying to get something on white people and putting us down and there you are - right in the middle tearing your on people down - - or are the black people your family - not us whites.

I've noticed your rating has gone way down. Why? You have hurt white people! You have hurt white history!

As Christians do believe God sent the flood there to punish you and to bring judgement on you for destroying the confederate flag and his punishment carries for a time.

But a certain presidency candidate promises us that after he is elected he is going to put on every TV station in America for us to come to the white house to fight and speak to save the confederate flag from undermined people like you!

Then he promises to make a law that if you hurt the confederate flag that person will spend seven years in prison.

You need to step down and let a real royal person take your place.

and laughing about it. But we will stop them. Just wait and see.

We just have to wait until our black president is out of office and Lord forbid we get another one.

I am a politician and have held many offices and a team and I am working hard to see a certain candidate will serve us whites as well as blacks. He is very fair when it comes to race, which you are not.

So the little white boy dishonored the Confederate flag and stooped low enough to take a life but you took our heritage when you took the Confederate flag down.

Yours Truly,
MS PeHaley
