Here's the detailed report. Where you are SC Flood Fund, that's a batch of credit card donations. You'll have to access the link I just sent to see credit card donors.

Holly,

I hope you are having a great Friday despite the dreary weather. Please see the attached financial report. These are the totals to date that reflect online donations. As before, if you want detailed information behind the online donation you can find that at the link provided by Jenni. Expenses and total available in the fund will be reconciled by our committee meeting on the 15th. I'll be sure to update you with that information once it is available to me.

Further, next week I will provide you an edited list of donors that the Governor may want to write a personal thank you note. I'll drop the notecards off you to you next week as well as those arrived yesterday afternoon.

Have a wonderful weekend!
