Subject: [Price Increase Thursday] What's Next For Miami's Future Developments?

As more people settle in Florida, traffic across many areas is slowing to a crawl driving the desire among residents to live and work near by. This challenge presents an opportunity for multifamily investors and developers to help relieve this frustration and build more in urban infill areas as well as develop mixed-use spaces in both urban and suburban communities. Where are the best opportunities for infill, and what are the secrets to executing on a successful mixed-use development plan?

Join some of today's leading developers from Florida East Coast Realty, 13th Floor Investments, American Land Ventures, as they share their plans to connect Florida's diverse communities and create more work-live-play opportunities. Find out which sub-markets may become hot spots in the coming months at the 5th annual Florida Multifamily Summit on Thursday, September 22. See who you will meet!
