Hi, Chaney,

I cover politics for the Miami Herald, and I'm working on a story today about how the English and Spanish GOP responses to the State of the Union differed, specifically on immigration. I highlighted some of the differences here.

I'm wondering if Gov. Haley wrote her own speech and knew that Rep. Diaz-Balart would revise it. Also, what does she think about the fact that the party delivered a slightly different message in different languages on immigration?

My deadline is this afternoon.

Thanks,
