Subject: This Week In Cats: The Spooky Kitty Edition

Attachments: 1_warning.htm

This week's cat of the week fell in love with his neighbor's stuffed tiger — so he did what any cat would do: He stole the tiger and ran off with it. Now the pair is absolutely insperable and NOTHING will bring them apart.

But while the cat of the week was busy sleuthing and thieving, the rest of Cat Country was putting together their plan for world domination. Let's go over the highlights, shall we?

- 1) Buzz the Fuzz survived a hard start to life to become a therapy cat and spend his time giving love to those in need.
- 2) Cat people came together on National Cat Day to explain why cats are so incredibly awesome.
- 3) A couple of classy cats got together to enjoy the finer things in life.
- 4) Cassidy the miracle kitten made an amazing recovery and no longer needs his little wheelchair to get around.
- 5) A litter of tiny kittens were reunited with their mom after they were abandoned — and it was the cutest family reunion ever.

In other corners of Cat Country, cats were making a huge effort to confuse the heck out of dogs — as if their relationship wasn't strained enough already. But if dogs will never be a perfect match for kitties, computers will always be there for your feline. Seriously, why do cats love laptops so much?

Kittens proved to be pioneers this week when a group of fluffy babies decided to travel around in Uber cars to give free cuddles to those in need. Truly inspiring.

Another group of shelter cats stepped into the spotlight this week when they dressed up in adorable Halloween costumes.

'Tis the season, after all!

If you had a rough week, these cats just want you to shake all that tough stuff off.

After all, it's important to remember that things are always looking up. Edgar Allen Purr, the rescue kitten, knows that better than anyone.

What a wild week in Cat Country — but the madness doesn't end here! Stay tuned to see what these felines are up to next week.

And those were the top links! Now we have Horoscope Cat back on the panel to tell you what your November is going to be all about. Take it away, Horoscope Cat!

November is almost upon us, and that means one thing and one thing only— the full tummy planets have aligned with the cozy planets. Yes folks, the greatest season in the world has arrived — and it's time to make the most of it.

The romance moons have orbited out of your relationship sector in the beginning of the month, but don't fret about it. You'll have plenty of snacks to make up for the lack of romance in your life during the week of the 19th — plus, who really needs someone else's fluff when you've got your own? That'd just be too many hairballs in the house.

The end of November will bring the best friend planet into full swing. Lots of friends will come into your life, so keep your arms open for plenty of hugs and snuggles. That's all you really need in life anyway, right?
