After Registering

- Survivors can expect a call from an Individuals and Households Assistance specialist.
- A booklet called “Help After a Disaster: Applicant’s Guide to the Individuals and Households Program” will answer many survivor questions.

Meeting with Survivors

- Disaster Survivor Assistance Teams
 - DSA teams are visiting neighborhoods in the storm-damaged counties.
 - DSA members wear blue FEMA shirts and have official FEMA photo ID.
- Inspectors
 - FEMA inspectors may contact survivors about their storm-damaged homes to schedule an inspection within seven to 10 days after an application is filed.
 - FEMA contract inspectors do not charge for this service.
 - Inspectors carry official FEMA photo ID and ask applicants to show proof of identity. Applicants should ask for ID from anyone claiming to represent FEMA.
 - Homeowners should identify all known damage and inform inspectors if the property has a septic system or well.
 - The average inspection takes 10 to 20 minutes.
- Other contacts
 - Others who may be in touch with survivors include insurance adjusters, local building inspectors, voluntary agency representatives and SBA specialists. No fees will be requested for any of these services.

Fraud

- Residents should report any suspicious activity or potential fraud.
- Ask to see credentials and contact local law enforcement if there is suspicion of an attempt to defraud. Do not pay in advance for services.

Donations

- Avoid charities soliciting door-to-door.
- The best way to donate help is to make a monetary contribution to one of the many Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster.
- Charitable agencies are listed on South Carolina's Emergency Management Division's website: <http://www.scemd.org/recovery-section/donations-and-volunteers>.

U.S. Small Business Administration

- Some $6.99 million in SBA loans approved.
- SBA's Business Recovery Center is open to assist business owners in applying for low-interest disaster loans. Center locations and hours: Trident United Way Building, 6296 Rivers Ave., Suite 304, North Charleston (Charleston County); Columbia Chamber of Commerce, 930 Richland St., Columbia (Richland); Conway Chamber of Commerce, 203 Main St., Conway (Horry). Hours: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.
- Survivors who believe they can't afford or won't qualify for an SBA loan should still apply. If the SBA determines an applicant is not eligible, the applicant may be referred for further disaster assistance. Failure to return the application might halt that process.
- For more information, visit the SBA website, www.sba.gov/disaster, or call SBA's Disaster Assistance Customer Service Center at: 800-659-2955. (Deaf and hard of hearing individuals may call: 800-877-8339.)

Insurance

- Insurance is a main source for money to put lives back in order after a disaster.
- Survivors should not wait for an insurance settlement before applying for a low-interest disaster loan from the SBA.

National Flood Insurance Program

- The National Flood Insurance Program call center serves and supports policyholders. The phone number is 800-621-3362 (press 2 for NFIP). The hotline is staffed daily from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Summary

- Twenty-two counties are designated for Individual Assistance: Bamberg, Berkeley, Calhoun, Charleston, Clarendon, Colleton, Darlington, Dorchester, Fairfield, Florence, Georgetown, Greenwood, Horry, Kershaw, Lee, Lexington, Marion Newberry, Orangeburg, Richland, Sumter and Williamsburg.
