Danny:

To summarize: on Tuesday, February 14 , We are gathering 200+ pastors at the Baptist Student Ministries building on South Main (819 Main) at 11:00 and will head over to the Statehouse about 12:15.

Any time that works for Kevin during that 11:10 to 12:15 slot would be great. He could kick it off or send them off. He could make a policy talk or give a word of his Christian testimony or both.

We are expecting a strong crowd and plan to mention the Lieutenant Governor's long record of accomplishment and perfect 100% score on our Legislative Scorecard.

PS: Professor Jim Guth at Furman sends his regards to you.

To whom this may concern,

This is Erik Corcoran, Director of Coalitions with the Nehemiah Network. I work for Dr. Oran Smith at Palmetto Family Council.

For the past 6 months I have been recruiting pastors in every House and Senate District from all across the state to commit to pray and encourage their representatives and senators. We have over 200 pastors now in what we call the "Nehemiah Network" which is a part of Palmetto Family.

Next Tuesday, On February 14th, over 100 pastors and members of the Network will meet for the first time and will be ushered into the Statehouse lobby to meet their legislators personally. We are so proud of Lt. Governor Bryant and his commitment to christian values as a Senator and now as our Lieutenant Governor.

If his schedule permits, we would love for him to share a little about his testimony and how faith intersects with his beliefs and duties in public service.

We hope he can participate in this historic event!

Pastor's Day at the statehouse

February 14, 2017 | 12:30pm

Pastors of the Nehemiah Network from all over the Palmetto State will gather at the statehouse to meet, encourage and pray with their legislators. The pastors will arrive in the lobby at 12:30pm and will send in a note to you. We hope that you will make yourself available to them.
