Today's "nature moment" is being brought to you from Hampton Plantation State Historic Site in McClellanville. It's a field of blue toadflax with the breeze blowing through. How peaceful. We hope you enjoy.

Audrey Smith Ateca I have always wondered what that wildflower was called! It is one of my favorite springtime flowers 🌸

Jonnie Britton I've never known the name of that "weed". As a child I often gathered bundles of them to give to my mom. Thanks for the calming video.
