

From: The Council of State Governments <data@csg.org>
To: Kevin L. BryantKevinBryant@scstatehouse.gov
Date: 7/16/2018 9:48:44 AM
Subject: SCOTUS Review, Rural Internet, Regional Meetings

---

Supreme Court Review for States

The U.S. Supreme Court consumed its steady diet of about 70 cases last term, many of which have big implications for the states.

Continue

A Leader in the Field

Kansas state Sen. Carolyn McGinn, who operates a family farm, answers our questions about balancing her legislative and farming duties and supporting agriculture in her state.

READ MORE

Rural Libraries Attempt to Bridge the Digital Divide

Public libraries have always been more than buildings where patrons borrow books, and now some libraries are stepping up to provide high-speed internet access to residents, students and business owners in rural areas where options are limited.

READ MORE

The Latest Developments in Autonomous Vehicles

There have been a variety of activities in the world of autonomous vehicles this spring and summer. Here's a roundup of the most recent federal, state and local policy actions; industry developments and research reports on the topic.

READ MORE

Register for Your CSG Annual Regional Meeting

There is still time to register for your CSG regional meeting, either online or onsite. State officials from all three branches of government will convene at these meetings to discuss issues important to their unique regions.

READ MORE

STAY CONNECTED:

The Council of State Governments, 1776 Avenue of the States, Lexington, KY 40511

SafeUnsubscribe™ kevinbryant@scsenate.gov

Forward this email | Update Profile | About our service provider

Sent by data@csg.org in collaboration with

Try it free today