South Carolina State Parks

So majestic! How awesome is this shot of a bald eagle at Huntington Beach State Park taken by our friend, Phil Lanoue? Apparently, this same eagle was spotted gathering nesting material on the park -- so maybe we'll get to see a nesting pair soon! Come out to Huntington Beach to check it all out:

Eric Shemwell Add the southwest Florida eagle cam to your Facebook. And visit website. I've been following Harriet for over 3 years. It's been an entertaining soap opera ride!

Robert Miller I saw a BE this past week. Probably the same pair. I put my spotting scope on it and gave many folks passing by on the boardwalk a real thrill to see a live Bald Eagle.
