South Carolina State Parks

at 1:10:29 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Ok park fans, who can tell me what kind of stone this is and which park you can find this at?

James Berry Limestone....Fort Sumter

at 1:11:52 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Mary Wayne James Coquina. Poinsett State Park

at 1:12:09 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Hahn Jackson the light house?

at 1:12:14 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Amy Frey Coquina, but I'm not sure where.

at 1:13:17 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Jenny Timmons Cox I'm guessing sandstone bricks. Not sure which park though. My husband and I are aspiring to visit all 47 state parks this year. We have already been to 3 in the last two weeks. Heading to MB State Park this weekend to camp!

at 1:13:18 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Jenny Timmons Cox Maybe I will discover this on one of our visits!

at 1:13:34 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Sue Ann Tarkenton I was thinking tabby.....

at 1:13:46 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Natalee D Reese No, I don't think it's tabby.... No shells in it.

at 1:14:26 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Jenny Timmons Cox Atalaya?

at 1:14:27 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Tammy Schmitt Rourke lime stone, but not sure where....HMMMMMM

at 1:14:52 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Peggy Higgins maybe tabby or coquina (probably tabby).

at 1:15:09 on 1/16/2013 UTC

JonwadeandAnna Weatherford Jenny cox, might as well do HBSP while staying at MBSP

at 1:17:42 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Sue Ann Tarkenton Is Botany Bay considered in the state park?

at 1:18:02 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Mary Marshall Coquina and it's at Poinsett State Park for sure!

at 1:19:17 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Becky Burgess Brock Coquina (sp?) rock

at 1:21:20 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Diana Hanson Lima stone at Paris mtn OK.

at 1:22:23 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Shay Shealy West Tabby/coquina at Huntington Beach State Park...

at 1:22:42 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Liddia Secrist coquina at poinsette

at 1:24:54 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Sue Ann Tarkenton I think Charles Towne landing and Dorchester both have some tabby structures.

at 1:25:59 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Doug Crawford Coquina at Atalaya?

at 1:27:02 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Jenny Timmons Cox Jonwade--I live about 20 miles from HBSP. We camp there all the time! We have camped at MB before too just not as often as HB. Love that park!

at 1:28:38 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Belinda Lewis Limestone ... Santee

at 1:32:15 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Don Foley coral stone @ Myrtle Beach SP

at 1:33:07 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Pat Savko Levi Sue Ann...Botany Bay is not considered a part of Edisto Beach SP...it is a totally separate entity...it is not in the park

at 1:33:45 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Sue Ann Tarkenton Thanks Pat. I knew it was a Heritage Preserve site but I wasn't sure about it being park of our parks.

at 1:37:07 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Cindy Long Coquina,poinsettia sp

at 1:37:47 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Susan Hamilton Coquina. Poinsett

at 1:38:07 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Cindy Long Coquina, poinsett sp

at 1:39:04 on 1/16/2013 UTC

South Carolina State Parks If you said Coquina stone, you are correct! And you can find this stone in the buildings at Poinsett State Park!

at 1:48:09 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Sue Ann Tarkenton That was fun!

at 1:48:50 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Laura Kirk Darn, late to the party :) It comes out of the ground soft so it was easy for the CCC to shape with tools. Once dry, it is a very solid building material.

at 1:53:34 on 1/16/2013 UTC

South Carolina State Parks And Sue Ann Cassidy Tarkenton, Botany Bay is not a state park or state park property. It is managed by SCDNR.

at 1:54:24 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Mary Marshall YAY!! Been there many times and we love it <3

at 2:00:56 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Lance L Mumford Coquina! Poinsett State Park. Yay!!!

at 2:05:25 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Robyn Satterfield Crawford Seriously? Who cares?

at 2:25:50 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Jeff Jackson Coquina at Poinsett. It does have shells but they have calcified ( I think). Tabby is manmade, like at Ft Dorchester. Seems like 'someone' (see below) needs to make like a masonry wall and get laid! Lol. I wish they'd reopen those coquina mines. What a great regional material!

at 2:40:45 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Robert Foster Iron Sandstone @ Lee State Park!

at 2:45:40 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Boyd A Parrish Coquina...same construction as the Castillo de San Marco in St. Augustine.....

at 2:56:44 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Boyd A Parrish Many forts built along the coast used this material for the walls,because cannonballs wouldn't shatter it upon impact-but almost absorb the projectile.....

at 2:58:47 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Angela Hopkins If you don't care, remove this from your likes, don't read and don't post...seriously.

at 3:44:47 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Dale E. Lair Mary Lou thinks this is Poinsett State Park.

at 15:41:00 on 1/16/2013 UTC

Tom Simpson I hadn't viewed the comments so I'll play. Limestone at Santee State Park?

at 2:44:49 on 1/17/2013 UTC

Angela Shaw Hays Ok park fans, who can tell me what kind of stone this is and AT which park you can find it?
