Description/Significant Features:

The single-story Period Cottage stands five bays wide and is clad in brick. A deep-set pedimented front porch with cornice returns is supported by battered brick columns and embraces the building's front elevation. An original paneled wooden door is centrally placed beneath the porch and is flanked on either side by original six-over-one sash. These original windows are found on all elevations of the house. Tall interior brick chimney stacks rise from both the eastern and western sides of the house.

Alterations (include date(s), if known):

replacement vinyl cladding in pediment
side porch addition on eastern elevation
