From: IoT Institute <IOTInstitute@info.ioti.com>
To: Kester, Tonykester@aging.sc.gov
Date: 9/16/2016 3:19:26 PM
Subject: The IoT Security Lineup -- NATO, CABA, Synposis and more

If you are having trouble reading this email, read the online version.

IoT Security Speakers + Sessions

Register for IoT Emerge to gain access to all sessions, keynote addresses, expo floor activities, live tours, happy hours, and more!

DISCOUNT CODES

$150 off IoT Emerge: IOT150SECURITY
$250 off Extreme Pass: IOT250SECURITY

These discount codes are only available until 09/23/2016.

The Connected World- How Secure is the IoT?

The Internet of Things is creating a supremely inter-connected world not just between things, but also between humans and things. This session looks at bot the scary and the challenging asects of security for the Internet of Things.

IIC's Security Claims Testbed: Targeting Secruity Early in Product Development

Understanding the security of devices ver early in product development can minimize delays for product launch. In this session, Dan will report on the work of the IIC's Security Claims Evaluation Testbed Initiative.

IoT: Risks to the Power Grid

Curtis Levinson and Jennifer Smith will examine the intersection of the IoT and SCADA systems as they relate to the security of our power grid.

Cybersecurity and Intelligent Buildings: Strategies for Managing Your Risk

Rawlson will provide insight on CABA's "Intelligent Buildings and Cybersecurity" research project and how it analyzes potential cybersecurity risks that are faced by owners and managers of intelligent buildings.

Setting the Standard for Cybersecurity

In this session Mike Ahmadi and Laura Elan will give an overview of the partnership efforst between Synopsis and UL, how the program has evloved since its inception, and how cyber assurance testing can help stakeholders gauge and manage risks.

5 Questions to Ask Your Software Provider Cybersecurity

Robert Vamosi will discuss the need for software testing, early and often, to make sure your IoT software does not contain weaknesses or vulnerabilities down the road.

Stay with us at The Hyatt

Regency McCormick Place!
Book your room today at the special IoT Emerge rate.

Visit iotmerge.com for more information.