TEST YOUR KNOWLEDGE WITH USI'S FAA PART 107 PRACTICE EXAM

The Federal Aviation Administration has mandated that all drone operators must pass a UAS Aeronautical Knowledge Test as one of the requirements for legally flying drones commercially. In addition to conditions such as flying below 400 feet, flying only during daytime, and flying less than 100 miles per hour, the FAA's Aeronautical Knowledge Test is the standout requirement testing a drone operators' understanding of how to keep the national airspace safe with questions regarding:

- Small unmanned aircraft system rating privileges, limitations, and flight operations
- Airspace classification and operating requirements
- Flight restrictions affecting small unmanned aircraft operations
- Emergency procedures
- Maintenance and pre-flight inspection procedures
- And much more...

Don't gamble with failing. Take advantage of USI's Practice Exam to learn what you'll need to know for the actual exam, at a fraction of the cost.

The Unmanned Safety Institute (USI) is the world's leading provider of education, training services, and certification support with an exclusive focus on unmanned aircraft system safety. The industry experts at USI have developed a 120-question practice exam, with a mix of both drone-specific and general manned aircraft questions, to hone your overall aeronautical knowledge and best prepare you for the actual exam.

At only $29, it's a small price to pay to improve your Part 107 test score. Get started today, click here.
