

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

- WHEREAS, dedicated healthcare professionals across the Palmetto State are committed to reducing the risk of healthcare-associated infections and safeguarding the safety of patients and providers; and
- WHEREAS, each year, millions of Americans undergo medical treatments and procedures that carry a risk of preventable infection; and
- WHEREAS, infection preventionists partner with other healthcare professionals to ensure proper cleaning and protection practices are followed; and
- WHEREAS, with the theme, Spread the Word, Not Germs, the 2015 observance of Infection Prevention Week helps raise awareness of the importance of hand hygiene for healthcare workers, patients, and the public while recognizing the important contributions of infection preventionists.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Nikki R. Haley, Governor of the great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim October 18 - 24, 2015, as throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to learn more about preventing infection and safe healthcare practices.
