I'm Signing this because my ancestors fought for the Confederacy. It's not about race or slavery, it's about people that fought and died for their country. Some believes it stands for slavery, but many soldiers (like my ancestors) didn't own slaves. Slavery started 200 years in America before this flag was invented, since slavery was started while the American flag was flying over our country, does that mean it will be next to be taken down???? Do you realize the first slave owner in America to own slaves, went to court so he could own them, was a black man. (Anthony Johnson)

Because it's not racists many people of the south can trace back to that time period to a loved one who gave their live to the Dixie flag

This is my home and my heritage. We fought to defend our home against invaders. We honor the memories of our heroes. They may of their new nation and for their state, that is true patriotism right there.
