Subject: Democratic Lt. Gov. Association launched

Good Evening Lt. Governors,

In case you missed it, the Washington Post released an article this morning announcing the launch of the Democratic Lieutenant Governors Association (DLGA), to rival the RLGA before the November elections. As we said in Orlando, the campaign is on and the Democrats are more energized and organized than ever before.

Read the article here: https://www.washingtonpost.com/news/powerpost/paloma/daily-202/2018/08/07/daily-202-this-is-a-terrible-year-for-gop-lieutenant-governors-running-for-higher-office/5b6903431b326b0207955f71/?utm_term=.060d0c2c0115.

Executive Committee, we will discuss further during next week's call and the urgent fundraising opportunity this presents for the RLGA.

Thank you!

Lauren
