Rhonda Kirkley One of our favorite place to camp!! Been to the top of the lighthouse a couple of times. Beautiful view:)

at 13:51:22 on 6/20/2013 UTC

Karen Stevenson LOL for me it was the first place I ever experienced vertigo! Beautiful park and beach. I am from Florida though and have never been attacked by mosquitoes like I was there. We had to drive with the doors of the van open to get rid of them.

at 18:23:51 on 6/20/2013 UTC

Jackie Jennings Shirley This year I am going to find this!

at 20:27:33 on 6/20/2013 UTC

Jennifer Zerlaut Kay, look into volunteering to work a week or so at a lighthouse. My brother and his wife do two weeks every year and love it. They get to stay in the lighthouse and learn all about the history. I think you might like it.

at 22:07:48 on 6/20/2013 UTC

Melissa Corwith Coker My husband and I spent our honeymoon at Hunting Island in one of the cabins. So sad they are no longer there.

at 23:16:06 on 6/20/2013 UTC

Steve Egan When I was a ranger there in '83 my cabin was at the base of the lighthouse. I think it is a rental unit now. I had a cat that would follow me all the way to the top. 181 steps I think it was. "Spaz the Lighthouse Cat" was in the local paper several times.
