Rebecca,

I hope you are well. As you know, the SBA conducted a damage assessment in Marion County over the weekend for damages that resulted from November 4, 2015 flooding. They did find sufficient damages to allow Marion County (and the contiguous counties) to qualify for an SBA agency declaration. The next step is for the Governor to request the agency declaration.

Attached to this email please find the draft letter requesting the SBA approve an agency disaster declaration for Marion County. Also attached are the findings from the field assessment that was conducted on Saturday. Please let me know of any questions.

Thanks,
Elizabeth
