We are about to lose our house all because Wells Fargo doesn't have a title to our house. This was a balloon note that matured while we we're trying to get it refinanced. They won't let us make payments because they said the loan matured but we are now on our second lender trying to get a loan but they won't finalize it because Wells Fargo can't provide a title to our double wide home. They don't have a title so the lenders won't approve our loan. They both said they're not paying anything off if they don't get a title. We have tried for 2 months trying to get them to rush things but they still haven't gotten it. I sent paperwork to dmv in blythwood South Carolina to apply for a lost title but I haven't received a response and the approval that we have right now expires November 15th. Wells Fargo has ruined our credit so bad that if we don't get this loan then we will loose our home because nobody else will finance us and wells Fargo said they won't refinance after all the paperwork we've sent and we've never been late on a payment.

I have read so many cases on the internet where people are having the same trouble with Wells Fargo and I don't understand how they can get away with it. There was a lady at the credit counseling place in Augusta that went through the same thing and also a girl at our doctors office. I had to go there to get something for my nerves. Everyone has told me to fight it but the attorney Patrick Zier in North Augusta told us it would cost us too much money to fight this and we don't have it because I quit work to help my daughter with her 2 kids that are handicaped. I hate bothering you but your the only person I know that might be of some help because I'm just another number to the other people. Thanks for any help you can give. ☐☐
