

From: The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau <donotreply@consumerfinance.gov>
To: Kester, Tonykester@aging.sc.gov
Date: 8/23/2016 2:05:27 PM
Subject: Helping your community's fight against elder financial exploitation

Good afternoon,

Every year, financial exploitation robs millions of older people in the United States of their money and property. To prevent and respond to the elder financial exploitation crisis, people are working together in hundreds of communities across our nation.

Today the CFPB's Office for Older Americans is releasing a report that describes how community networks help to prevent, detect, and respond to elder financial exploitation. Our report includes recommendations for building new protection partnerships and supporting existing ones. We are also releasing a resource guide to help stakeholders create and enhance their community networks.

Download and read our report and resource guide at: consumerfinance.gov/elder-protection-networks

Together we can build networks that support the safety and independence of older people by protecting them from financial predators. Please join us in this important effort.

Thank you,

Stacy Canan
Office for Older Americans
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

About the CFPB

The CFPB is a 21st century agency that helps consumer finance markets work by making rules more effective, by consistently and fairly enforcing those rules, and by empowering consumers to take more control over their economic lives.

Learn more at consumerfinance.gov.

Connect with us

facebook.com/CFPB

@CFPB

Resources

AskCFPB

CFPB blog

Submit a complaint

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
1700 G Street NW
Washington, D.C. 20552

consumerfinance.gov

Update your subscriptions, modify your password or email address, or stop subscriptions at any time on your Subscriber Preferences Page. You will need to use your email address to log in. If you have questions or problems with the subscription service, please contact web@consumerfinance.gov.

This service is provided to you at no charge by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau.