Council accepted as information, a financial report from Bamberg County Memorial Hospital CEO Roy Vinson for the month of September. Mr. Vinson reported that the patient volume was slightly up from August at just under 13 patients per day. Surgery volume for the month was down approximately 15 percent from August (from 299 to 253). Net revenue was down by $62,000 from August, with expenses for September $119,000 less than the previous month. Net income for September was at a positive $36,000. For the 12 months through the end of September, the net income was $468,000.

Mr. Kell Anderson, project manager with Southern Carolina Regional Alliance, informed the council of an official ribbon cutting at 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, November 17, for completion of the speculative building at Cross Rhodes Industrial Park. He also stated that things at GTI are going well. The council accepted this update as information.

Representatives from Liollo Architectural Firm, Mr. Dinos Liollo, Mary McFadden and Bill Ussery presented a presentation of a structural engineering study to repair cracks in the county courthouse. They stated that their goal will be enhancing service efficiency and safety while maintaining the historical integrity of the building, which may undergo enhancements for updated technologies and security measures. Mr. Liollo and Ms. McFadden conducted a structural analysis of the courthouse. The master plan and property analysis focused on county administration and judicial functions and public safety. The county currently has six basic locations for those programs that occupy approximately 18,000 square feet of space. Some of the issues that are missing within the context of county functions include training facilities, conference rooms and support facilities for security issues. Mr. Liollo stated that the county will need approximately 38,000 square feet of space over the next 20 years. Ms. McFadden presented three scheme overlays of the county's current building functions, including those for the courthouse which is separated from the jail and E-911 center by Second Street. Schemes A and B included the closure of Second Street to provide for the more secure transport of inmates to the courthouse. Scheme C separated from the jail and E-911 center by Second Street. Scheme C also had public safety and administration functions in a separate building behind the courthouse, which would have one central access point. County Administrator Dobson-Elliott said that we are looking at effectiveness and efficiency, but also trying to bear in mind the cost. It was stated that the courthouse was in "generally good condition." The main problem was the inside wall cracks, some of which have come through to the outside of the building. Mr. Ussery said the cracks were occurring primarily where the courthouse's addition was made in 1960. He recommended monitoring the cracks and having a geotechnical engineer conduct a study of subsurface conditions to see what's going on before coming up with a solution to stop the building from settling. The council accepted this report as information.
