NRI Welcomes New Board Members !

NRI is pleased to announce the newest additions to its Board of Directors. These leaders bring years of experience to NRI as the organization continues to focus on its Vision; No person's life will be limited by mental illness or addiction through Analytics Improving Behavioral Health. NRI's Board of Directors is composed of 16 leaders in the behavioral health field, the majority of who are Commissioners of State Behavioral Health Agencies (SBHAs).

In addition to the 3 new Board members below, the following were reelected to NRI's Board of Directors for new terms: Steve Baron (Secretary, Former Commissioner D.C.), Jane Beyer (Commissioner, Washington), Lisa Clements (Former Commissioner, Colorado), and Lynda Zeller (Commissioner, Michigan).

Deborah Ferguson, Ph.D., Virginia

Debra Ferguson was named commissioner of the Virginia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Services (DBHDS) by Governor Terry McAuliffe in March 2014. She has over 25 years of experience as a clinical and forensic psychologist in both private practice and the public sector. She is a veteran of the United States Armed Forces.

Pamela Martin, Ph.D., A.B.P.P., Oregon

Pamela Martin is the director of the Oregon Health Authority's Addictions and Mental Health Division. Prior to joining OHA, she directed behavioral health programs for the University of New Mexico and the State of New Mexico as the Director of the Behavioral Health Services Division and then as the Director of Behavioral Health for juvenile justice facilities.

Ann Marie Sullivan, M.D., New York

Ann Marie Sullivan serves as the New York State Mental Health Commissioner since 2014. Along with ensuring the seamless integration and coordination of services across the networks, she has aligned and helped to implement key programs on inpatient units, and emergency services and led integration of behavioral health and medical sciences. She grew up in Queens, New York.
