Dick —

At this point I think you should contact Kevin's office via Danny Varat dannyvarat@scstatehouse.gov directly. He is aware of the request and will be the point person for contact. I cannot remember the name of the individual who came with Kevin last year, but he was the newly appointed head of the program of outreach to seniors. He is very knowledgeable and a good speaker. I have copied this to Danny.

I hope that Kevin can make this event as he has been a big supporter of programs to those ... like me ... who are aging and he will be able to address a larger group than last time. Let me know if this works out.

Rich....hope your day is going well. A thought...when Kevin came last year at Furman, he had one of his staff also do a presentation pertaining to the Lt. Governor's Office on Aging. Do you recall who that was? Last year at the SLG Government Session, Gerry Dickinson, Mgr. Policy & Research, represented the Lt. Governor's Office on Aging and made a presentation. My thoughts are that possibly one of Kevin's staff could make the presentation and then we could have Kevin chime in and then both could answer questions. I know Kevin is busy with both work and campaigning, but I believe this would work better for him? What do you think...you may have a much better idea. Again thanks for all your help...

Dick — Kevin has the request and will look at his agenda. If he cannot make it, he has very good staff person on board who can fill in. Let me know if I can do more. — Rich Glad to hear from you. I was in the 1st senior leaders program so share something with you. I will be glad to contact Kevin. I am confident he will be interested. I know ... the press is not picking up on this ... but he got more votes in the recent straw vote than anyone but the current governor. So, his position is pretty strong despite his lack of funding. His energy is at a high level and he is speaking everywhere he can. His campaign and office is his full time effort. I will contact Kevin and let you know how he responds. Give it a few days as he is traveling all the time.

Rich...hope your day is going well. My name is Dick Poremba. Nancy Kennedy of Furman OLLI gave me your email. I was at the Lt. Governor's Kevin Bryant's presentation at Furman OLLI last year last year. Nancy told me that you were instrumental in getting the Lt. Governor and a member of his staff to do the presentation at Furman.

I am the Chairperson this year for Senior Leadership Greenville. Right now, we are in the process of planning our April 13, 2018 session, "Government & Senior Advocacy" for the current class. The Senior Leaders program is sponsored by Furman University and the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) along with community partners Bon Secours and Senior Action. I have attached a program brochure for your review. There are 30 class participants in each class plus staff and support personnel. The current 2017-2018 Leadership class started in August 2017 and will graduate in May 2018.

The upcoming Government & Senior Advocacy session will include local, state and federal government officials both elected and non-elected. We would really appreciate if you would assist us in getting the Lt. Governor or someone from the Office of Aging to speak again on state government and senior issues? Normally, each presenter has an approximate 30 to 60 minute time slot for both their presentation and questions depending on their requirements.

Look forward to hearing back from you. I can also be reached on my cell at 361-658-1069.

Respectfully,

Dick Poremba
