Subject: Carolighting - College of Charleston

I asked College of Charleston if they would be interested in being part group choir and heard back today. They were very enthusiastic and honored to be asked to participate.

They didn't feel like they could justify travel expenses without having a slot and song in the televised program and I didn't feel like I could promise that.

I told them I would present to the committee but didn't feel like there was really any room with groups wanting to do more than one piece.

Let me know if you think differently.

Good meeting today!
