The Honorable Nikki R. Haley

Office of the Governor

1205 Pendleton Street

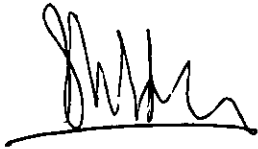

Columbia, South Carolina 29201

Dear Governor Hailey,

It should be illegal in South Carolina to encourage someone to commit suicide, or when a person attempts to suicide instead of being sent to jail they should get medical assistance. As a fellow republican, I believe it should be considered man-slaughter or first degree murder to encourage someone to commit suicide. If a person were to attempt to suicide, they often turn into a violent person and a danger to society. So the person get medical assistance, to help them. Depression is a major issue in society currently, the patients do not get help or no chance to express themselves, that's when they resort to other types of thing as in self-harm. It's a way that South Carolina, in general, would get better, a way to help society.

Most Sincerely,
