

Jennifer Brinley has become one of the most sought after artists in the home décor and housewares industries. Her distinctive style, strong sense of color and ability to capture current trends has put her in great demand. Painting mostly in gouache and watercolor, Jennifer enjoys using vibrant warm colors inspired by Italian ceramics and French textiles; finding her inspiration through her travels in the U.S. and Europe. Jennifer and her husband (also an artist) share studio space in their home in the coastal community of Encinitas, California. They spend their days painting in between dog walks.
