Subject: New NTG Education & Training Curriculum on Dementia and Intellectual Disability

Dear Grantees and Partners,

Below is an announcement about upcoming workshops on Dementia Capable Care of Adults with Intellectual Disability (ID) and Dementia. If you require continuing education credits, be sure to ask if they are available for your profession.

National Alzheimer's and Dementia Resource Center (formerly known as the ADSSP National Resource Center)

National Task Group on Intellectual Disabilities and Dementia Practices

The NTG announces its staff/caregiver-focused workshops, Dementia Capable Care of Adults with Intellectual Disability (ID) and Dementia... two-day evidence-informed, interactive workshops that are instructed by NTG Master and Lead Trainers and based on the NTG's new Education and Training Curriculum on Dementia and Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities.

The workshops are designed for staff/caregivers with direct or ancillary care responsibilities for supporting older adults with intellectual disability at disability, health care, and aging-related agencies or staff/caregivers providing supports in home settings.

The next workshop will be held in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, on March 31-April 1, 2015.

Education credits earned: 12 hours. Registration for the workshop will be open shortly - see <http://aadmd.org/ntg/schedule> for more information.
