South Carolina State Parks

at 14:14:29 on 12/15/2010 UTC · 🌐

It has been VERY cold by SC standards the past couple of weeks! So tell us, is it EVER too cold to camp?

Tina Marie Ramsey yes

at 14:14:51 on 12/15/2010 UTC

HollyAnn Crowe It is fun but I would say yes, it can be too cold to camp.

at 14:16:47 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Dianne Turgeon Richardson Once camped at 7000 ft in a national forest in Utah. The low (in the month of May) was 23, and we couldn't build campfires because it was fire season. I would definitely say that was too cold to camp! But we still had fun.

Darin K. James Going kayaking/camping this January.... so the answer is no.

at 14:18:31 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Jim Lynch No, as long as you're properly prepared.

at 14:19:26 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Laura Kirk Nah, I camped for 2 weeks on an island in the Beaufort Sea (north of Prudhoe Bay) for a job. More than a few mornings, I woke up with icicles hanging down from the inside tent roof, all from my breathe condensation during the night! Getting out of my sleeping bag was TOUGH!

Donna Ann Brewer Not in South Carolina!!!!

at 14:19:56 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Bill Bynum Not if you have a self-contained RV with heat. But definately too cold for a tent.

at 14:24:45 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Donna Morse Rodgers Once camped in Lake Greenwood state park for Thanksgiving and got up and the camper door frozen shut, so I would say no its never too cold to camp!

at 14:42:28 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Mary Travis-Ross Getting Pretty Close.....

at 14:47:35 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Bonnie Wright With today's RVs it's never too cold to camp. BTW....the challenge is on to ya'll.... come take the HISP Pelican Plunge with us crazys. The water may be warmer than the air this year :-)

at 15:03:49 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Kelly Rahn there's no bad weather, just bad gear!

at 15:14:22 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Velina Owensby never to cold, we camped at Wateree SState Park the last week of Novemeber and loved it...took plenty of wood and kept the fire going...

at 15:23:38 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Poppa Danny Not as far as I'm concerned, as long as you have plenty of fire wood. I have a Coleman camping heater that's about 35 years old and will still run you out of the tent.

at 15:39:09 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Avis Havel Hutchinson yes.
at 15:54:01 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Tony Ivey I went tent camping at Keowee Toxaway once when there was 7" of snow on the ground but the coldest weather I ever camped in was in Chester, 8 degrees.
at 16:36:45 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Nancy Eargle Hargrove Never, when you own a camper with good heat and plumbing!
at 17:40:53 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Melissa Hornyak not if it's in a cabin!!!
at 17:41:32 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Raymond Carpenter I tent camped on Jan.3rd and it was 14.... I am going to do New Years Eve this year. NEVER too cold.
at 23:04:32 on 12/15/2010 UTC

Rick Smith As long as you are prepared, it is never to cold to camp. Yarrrrr!
at 0:13:53 on 12/16/2010 UTC

Kathy Coad Capps no
at 3:10:25 on 12/16/2010 UTC

Bruce Mullins No!
at 4:01:54 on 12/16/2010 UTC

Courtney Brooke Vaughan No! We camp every weekend at Table Rock! It's worth being chilly!
