I'd like to talk a bit about growing up in Bamberg and how that influenced her, and how she developed her political philosophy. And then generally what she learned in her first term as governor, what she learned from the Walter Scott & Confederate flag incidents this year and how she plans to apply those lessons going forward.

Hi Rob,

I'm back in DC and wanted to follow up about setting up a phone interview with Gov. Haley. I know you've got the state of the state speech tomorrow, but does she have a few minutes to talk Thursday afternoon, Friday or Monday or Tuesday of next week? I'm on deadline for Wednesday morning (1/27). Let me know, thanks!
