South Carolina State Parks

Snow? Do you really think we'll get some today in the Palmetto State? The word is our beach parks might see more than our mountains. How cool would white snow on a white sandy beach be? To make sure you see that unusual happening, we've asked our park rangers along the coast to send in some photos should it snow. Also you can stay tuned to our webcam at Edisto Beach State Park:

Brenda F. Guillot Snowing like a blizzard here on Lady's Island, SC! I work at Hunting Island State Park, but not sure if it's snowing there. Would love to see the beach and the Lighthouse there with snow on the ground all around..... Awesome! =)
